GEORGIANS' GREETING

President First Journeys to Old Home of Mother.

ATLANTA THROGGED

Chief Executive Delivers an Address That Deals Largely With Fleece Staple and Effect Upon It of China's Boycott.

Atlanta, Oct. 20.—There was an immense assemblage at the terminal station to greet the president and party upon their arrival. Thousands of people from all over Georgia were in the city, visitors being estimated at over 75,000. Atlanta was handsomely decorated. The train was exactly on time. As it came into the city every steam whistle blew a rousing welcome.

Waiting on the station platform was a reception committee headed by Governor Terrell, Senator Clay, Congressman Livingston, Mayor Woodward and Bishop C. K. Nelson. To greet Mrs. Roosevelt was a small committee of ladies led by Mrs. Terrell, wife of the governor, and Mrs. Clark Howell. Mrs.

SENATOR A. S. CLAY, GEORGIA.

Roosevelt and escort departed almost immediately for the governor's mansion, where she was greeted by a reception committee of about 100 society ladies and witnessed the parade from that point of vantage. The line of march quickly formed and the president and his escorts started for Piedmont park.

President Roosevelt was escorted by fair grounds at Piedmont park, three miles from the terminal station, by two troops of the Twelfth United States cavalry, followed by the citizens' reception committee, detachments from the Seventeenth United States infantry and several state militia companies, together with representatives of organized labor. The chief executive reviewed the parade, after which he made an address.

Luncheon was then served and a general reception held.

At the Georgia School of Technology 500 students greeted the president with the Harvard yell. He inspected the workshops and addressed the boys from a stand covered with the crimson of Harvard.

Senator Clay introduced the president. Deafening cheers greeted the chief magistrate as he was presented to the mighty throng.

In beginning his address President Roosevelt said that in a great industrial center like Atlanta it is natural to consider certain phases of the many-sided industrial problems which this generation has to solve; that it is impossible to get success of any kind on a large scale without paying something for it.

Dealing with question of corporations, the chief executive said their growth meant also the growth of individual fortunes. "Undoubtedly the growth of wealth in this country has had some very unfortunate accompaniments, but it seems to me that much the worst damage that people of wealth can do the rest of us is not any actual physical harm, but the awakening in our breasts of either the mean vice of worshipping mere wealth for the wealth's sake, or the equally mean vice of viewing with rancorous envy and hatred the men of wealth merely because they are men of wealth. Envy is, of course, merely a kind of crooked admiration, and we often see the very man who in public is most intemperate in his denunciation of wealth in his private life most eager to obtain wealth, in no matter what fashion, at no matter what moral cost." He declared corporations creatures of the state and they should be regulated as held accountable for their proper conduct to the Federal government, because their accountability should be co-extensive with their field of action.

"It is the duty of every honest patriot," said the president, "to rebuke in emphatic fashion alike the politician who does not understand that the only kind of 'practical politics' which a nation can with safety tolerate is that kind which is known as clean politics, and that we are as severe in our condemnation of the business trickery which succeeds or of the business trick-ery which fails."

Speaking of cotton, the president said that while he was glad to see diversification, nevertheless "it will always be true that in certain southern states cotton will be the basis of the wealth, the mainstay of prosperity, in the future as in the past. The cotton crop is of enormous consequence to the entire country. It was the cotton crop of the south that brought $40,000,000 of foreign gold into the United States last year, turning the balance of trade in our favor. The soil and climate of the south are such that she enjoys a practical monopoly in the production of raw cotton. No other clothing material can be accepted as a substitute for cotton. I welcome the action of the planters in forming a cotton association, and every assistance shall be given them that can be given them by the national government. Moreover we must not forget that the work of the manufacturers of the south supplements the work of the planter. It is an advantage to manufacture the raw material here and sell to the world the finished goods. Under proper methods of distribution it may well be doubted whether there can be such a thing as overproduction. Last year's crop was nearly 14,000,000 bales, and yet the price was sufficiently high to give a handsome profit to the planter. The consumption of cotton increases each year and new uses are found for it." In this connection the speaker referred to the boycott of China upon American goods, particularly as that country buys much cotton goods. He declared the boycott of the past year had been especially injurious to cotton manufacturers.

Mr. Roosevelt emphatically declared his opposition to the importation of coolies, saying the well being of our wage workers demands that they be excluded, but favor business men, students and scholars being permitted to travel over the United States. He declared this action necessary, otherwise foreign competition would control the Chinese empire's patronage.

VISITS MOTHER'S HOME.

President Murmured to Mrs. Roosevelt: "I Can Hardly Leave Here."

Roswell, Ga., Oct. 20.—President Roosevelt carried out his long cherished plan of visiting the home of his mother, Roswell. One of his reasons for coming south was that he might see the old homestead where his mother spent her girlhood and which she left a happy bride. That the visit was fraught with many tender recollections was evident, and as the carriage drove away from the old Bulloch mansion, where his mother lived and married, the president murmured to Mrs. Roosevelt: "I can hardly bear to leave here." The president was joined here by Senator and Mrs. Clay, who were his guests at breakfast. He then entered a carriage and was driven to the mansion. Here he was greeted by two old servants who lived on the place during his mother's young womanhood. One of these, "Aunt Grace," acted as maid to Miss Martha Bulloch, who afterward became Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt, and the other, William Jackson, decorated the mansion on the occasion of the marriage of its young mistress. The president was deeply touched as he shook hands with the old servitors. In company with Mrs. Roosevelt he then inspected the house, calling attention of the company to many incidents connected with his mother's childhood. Before leaving the mansion he posed with Mrs. Roosevelt for a picture which included "Aunt Grace" and "Daddy William."

From the homestead the president was driven to the town park, where a stand had been erected and from which he delivered an address.

Presidential party visited the Presbyterian church. A reception was held at Butterick hall.

BRAZOS NAVIGATION.

River Will Be Ready for Boats by Spring.

Galveston, Texas, Oct. 19.—Mr. Charles Schuster of the government engineers' department has returned from a trip to the Brazos river, where work is being prosecuted to open up that waterway to navigation. He stated that the government forces are now working between Richmond and Velasco, or the mouth of the Brazos, and making good progress under existing conditions. This section is about 100 miles long and it is anticipated that it will be given a three-foot depth of channel within about six or seven months and that the Brazos canal will be opened to navigation at the same time.

The dredge Mansfield is now working its way westward in the canal and with the completion of this section navigation will be opened up from Galveston and Houston and other points in this vicinity to all points along the West bay and Brazos river as far as Old Washington and beyond.

The upper section, between Richmond and Old Washington, comprising 154 miles, is practically finished with the exception of the rock work at several of the shoals, and the government plant, consisting of two steam pile drivers, a dredge boat and several auxiliary craft, is now operating below Richmond.

It is assured that navigation will have been established in time to move the spring crops next year and a movement is under way to put on a fleet of steamboats. It is said a company is being formed for that purpose and that stock will be taken by the citizens of several of the towns along the Brazos river.

GRIMES OIL LAND DEAL.

A Navasota special says: Another deal was yesterday concluded whereby Driller McLeod is to put a rig on the north Seaton survey in Grimes county, on the 300 acre tract belonging to Bob Owen of Navasota and Phil Trant of Bryan. Barties in Navasota have considerable holdings adjoining which are understood to be affected by the trade. The Seaton tract is known to be one of the best propositions in the Grimes County oil belt and a rig on this ground will prove a stimulant to the field.

The rig will be taken across country from Millican, which is only nine miles distant and work of cutting a right of way for the purpose was begun this morning. Work on the well by the Moonshine people on the Mineral Springs Mining and Development Company's property is advancing as rapidly as possible. As to what has been discovered by the drillers is not given out.

TEMPTED AND FELL.

Cunliffe Confesses and Says the Money He Took Is Intact.

Bridgeport, Conn., Oct. 20.—Edward George Cunliffe, the Adams Express employee, who disappeared from Pittsburg, Pa., was $101,000 in cash and arrested here, has made a confession and expressed his willingness to return at once to Pittsburg. He declared that the money which he took was intact and that it could be restored, but he declined to tell until his return to Pittsburg where it is hidden. On his person when arrested the detectives found $290.

Detectives traced Cunliffe here. All the hotels were watched carefully, but Cunliffe was not arrested until late Thursday forenoon, when he was seen walking down Middle street. He made no attempt to deny his identity and offered no resistance.

"Five minutes after I took that money, I was sorry," said Cunliffe, "but it was too late then to do anything. What can you expect from a man getting a salary of $65 a month and handling thousands of dollars a day? I was tempted and I fell. I have handled larger sums. I remember once we had $250,000 in cash. I was tempted, but I thought it over and decided to be honest."

"The night I left Pittsburg I rode in a sleeper on the way to New York, and I stuck my head out of my berth and saw Slater pass by. Slater is our local manager in Pittsburg. I thought then that I would turn back, but knowing that he did not see me, and that I had the money with me in cash, I thought I would take the chance. I want to go back to Pittsburg, restore the money and throw myself on the mercy of the courts."

A detective told Cunliffe that $30,000 of the money had been located at the home of his brother-in-law at Bristol, Conn. Pressed to tell where the remainder was, Cunliffe said: "You will never get it; for I have destroyed it." He said he was afraid the large denomination of the bills would give him away, so he burned them.

PREDICTED UPON TEN.

Former Bank President Has Several Charges to Answer.

NOW IN PORTO RICO

Young Kentuckian Has Had Considerable Experience In Financial Operations at Both Louisville and Paducah.

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 20.—W. B. Smith, president of the Western National bank of this city, has been indicted by the Federal grand jury on ten counts charging him with embezzlement, making false entries and the misappropriation of funds of the bank. The total defalcation charged in the indictment is $198,013.32, divided as follows: False entries, $135,966.65; misappropriation, $12,044.27; embezzlement, $50,000.

Mr. Smith is said to be in Porto Rico and it is alleged a cablegram has been received from him saying he will return to Louisville Oct. 29.

Smith went to New York from Louisville last week and was at the Fifth Avenue hotel. Last Saturday he wired President Jefferson his resignation as a director of the Western National bank. Mr. Smith bought a controlling interest in the Western National two years ago and became its president, but owing to the dissatisfaction of the directors over his administration he was forced to resign on July 10, last. He was succeeded by B. L. Jefferson.

Mr. Jefferson and the old members of the directorate asserted all their energies to hold the bank up, but Aug. 21 the comptroller of the currency ordered it closed. The bank has since reopened under favorable conditions. Smith is thirty-two years old. He came here from Paducah, where he was interested in several enterprises. At the age of twenty-one Smith was cashier of the Lewisburg Banking company at Lewisburg, Ky., and two years later held a similar position in Slaughter'sville, Ky.

In 1902, Mr. Smith helped to organize the Globe Bank and Trust company in Paducah and became its president. He remained at Slaughter'sville, Ky., for two years, going to Louisville a year later.

While in Paducah Mr. Smith took a prominent part in church affairs and taught a class in the Broadway Methodist Sunday school. He owned an interest in the Jackson Whig, a newspaper published at Jackson, Tenn. He was formerly president of the People's Home Purchasing company of Paducah which is now in the hands of a receiver, a fraud order having been issued against it by the government several months ago.

SALUTING A SNEEZER.

A CUSTOM THAT BELONGS TO EVERY NATION AND CLIME.

There Are Many and Varied Answers to the Question, Why Do We Do It? That Was Asked by Pliny Some Nineteen Centuries Ago.

"Why do we salute the sneezer?" asked Pliny nineteen centuries ago. We still ask the question, and one wonders if Pliny could collect so many ingenious replies as the ana of the twentieth century furnish.

In Caxton's 1483 edition of "The Golden Legende" is an account of a pestilence in Rome in the time of Gregory the Great, from which many died suddenly. "In this manner, sometime sneezing they deyed, so that when any persone was herd sneezing, anone they that were by said to hym, God helpe you, or Cryst helpe, and yet endureth the custome." As Pope Gregory reigned in the sixth century Pliny's query far antedates the explanation in "The Golden Legende."

In the Buddhist Scriptures, dating at least 250 B. C., it is related that Buddha, when preaching one day to his disciples, sneezed, whereupon all exclaimed: "May the Blessed Lord live! May the welcome one live!" thus seriously interrupting the discourse. Buddha said, "Tell me, when a person sneezes, if the bystanders say, 'May you live,' will he live the longer or die the sooner for it?" "Certainly not, lord." So he forbade them to say it. But the people took offense because the priests did not thus salute them, and Buddha revoked his command.

The Talmudic tradition is that the custom dates from Jacob. Before his time man did not die of disease, but when his appointed time was come he sneezed once and was dead. Jacob petitioned for exemption from this law, and his prayer was granted on condition that among all nations a sneeze should be hallowed by the words, "God bless you."

The Greeks traced the custom back to the myth of Prometheus, who made an image of clay and wished to give it life. From the sun he stole a reedful of rays, and, hastening back to his statue, he placed the reed under its nostrils, producing a sneeze—a phenomenon we may at any time produce by standing in the sun. At this sign of life in his creation Prometheus ejaculated a blessing and a prayer for its preservation, and this response to a sneeze has been handed down through all generations.

Also in the story of the Shunamite child restored to life by the prophet Elisha do we find the idea that this convulsive effort of nature is the first sign of life. "The child sneezed seven times, and the child opened his eyes." According to Scottish folklore, a newborn child is under the fairy spells until it sneezes. Aristotle mentions the practice of physicians who, when death seems near, give medicines to induce sneezing, hoping thereby to arouse the failing faculties. Aristotle seems to have given much attention to omens of sneezing. He says a sneeze on the right hand brings good fortune; on the left hand it betokens ill.

In the Odyssey, when Penelope calls on the absent Ulysses to punish wrong: Telemachus then sneezed aloud. The smiling queen the happy omen blessed. "So may these implous fall by fate oppressed."

St. Augustine records that when the ancients arose in the morning if they sneezed while putting on their shoes they immediately went back to bed again in order to get up more auspiciously and so escape misfortunes likely to occur during the day. If a Hindoo sneezes while performing his morning ablutions in the Ganges he touches his forehead, nose, chin and cheeks with the tips of his fingers and recommences his prayers from the very beginning. In illness sneezing is considered a good omen, a sign of returning health. Howell in 1659 said, "He that hath sneezed twice, turn him out of the hospital." Among the ancients if any one sneezed directly after dinner a dish was brought back and tasted to avert misfortune.

The custom of saluting belongs to every nation and clime. In Ethiopia when the king sneezed those about him saluted so loudly that they were heard and echoed through the whole city. In 1542 De Soto had an interview in Florida with a cacique who during conversation happened to sneeze. All his attendants bowed their heads, opened and closed their arms and saluted the prince with "May the sun guard you, shine on you, defend you, prosper you," and similar phrases. An Italian child's primer of 1553 says, "Being prompt in saluting any one who may sneeze and returning thanks to any who on such an occasion may have wished you well."

An epigram in the Greek anthology shows it was customary to say "God bless you." The ancient Romans said "Salve." The modern Roman of the lower class says, "Figli maschi" (May you have male children). The north Germans say, "Your good health;" in Vienna, "God be with you;" in Ireland the peasant says, "God bless your honor," "Long life to your honor." The Russian form is "To your good health" or "How do you do?" English folklore is full of rhymes about sneezing on certain days. In Devonshire they say: Sneeze on Sunday morning fasting. You'll enjoy your own true love everlasting.

This is but one of the many that are in use all over the land.

The Truth About Vanity.

When one comes to think of it, vanity may be defined as an appreciation of the beautiful, which impels us to make ourselves as beautiful as it is possible to be. It appears also on analysis that a desire to make oneself better is a confession of the need of being beautified, so that the girl or the man who titivates may have a less conceit than those who go about content with themselves as they are. ugly, probably, for it so often happens that Providence denying beauty denies also the appreciation of it in other things and persons.—Black and White.

SIN'S CONSEQUENCES.

Innocent Indulgence Often Brings Trouble
—E. J. Jenkins Offers Means of Escape.

The consequences of violating physical law are often as unpleasant as the breaking of a moral rule. The innocent indulgence of over-eating brings consequences that amount to real suffering. Indigestion is not natural; it is not right; it should not be. E. J. Jenkins offers a means of escape in Mi-o-na tablets that is simple and practical.

These simple tablets are composed of such valuable medicinal agents as bismuth subgallate, which is superior to all other remedies for stomach troubles, cerium oxalate, and tonics and correctives which promote the action of the digestive organs, strengthen the whole digestive tract, and make it possible to eat what you like and when you like.

If you suffer with headaches, indigestion, flatulency, heart-burn, dizziness, sleeplessness, back-ache, or debility or weakness, begin the use of Mi-o-na at once. Just one tablet out of a 50 cent box before each meal, and you will regain perfect health and strength.

Ask E. J. Jenkins to show you the guarantee under which he sells Mi-o-na. It costs nothing unless it cures. The risk is all his.

Rally Day services will be held by the Methodist Sunday school Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. Attention is directed to the program published elsewhere in The Eagle this morning. All are cordially invited to attend the service.

Romantic Wedding of a Chinaman and Japanese Widow.

El Paso, Oct. 20.—After traveling some 500 miles from Durango, Mex., Charlie Fonk, a Chinaman, forbidden to enter the United States, and Mrs. Kate Perry Rusconi, a Japanese widow, who could not marry in Mexico until she had worn weeds for two years, circumvented the laws of both nations Thursday afternoon by being married in the center of the International bridge across the Rio Grande.

The groom-elect remained in Juarez while the bride-to-be came across the river to El Paso, where she procured the license. Over 100 people of El Paso witnessed the ceremony performed by Justice Mitchell. Customs Inspector Rowe set off five packages of fire crackers following the ceremony, while Inspector Stroud saluted the couple with six shots fired in the air from a pistol. They were showered with rice and flowers.

- And if it seems evil unto you to serve the Lord, choose you this day whom ye will serve; whether the gods which your fathers served that were on the other side of the flood, or the gods of the Amorites, in whose land ye dwell; but as for me and my house, we will serve the Lord.
- And the people answered and said, God forbid that we should forsake the Lord, to serve other gods.
- For the Lord, our God, he it is that brought us up and our fathers out of the land of Egypt, from the house of bondage, and which did those great signs in our sight, and preserved us in all the way wherein we went, and among all the people through whom we passed.

MUST PAY PENALTIES.

Comptroller Refuses to Reduce Taxes Unless Others Are Also Settled.

Austin, Oct. 20.—The Waters-Pierce Oil company will have to pay $2000 penalties under Kennedy bill for failure to make report and pay tax when due. The comptroller has received a remittance for $15,539, covering tax for quarters ending June 30, and Sept. 30, 1905, but on advice of the attorney general he declined to accept the tax unless the company paid the penalties also. If the company fails to pay the penalties suit will be instituted.

Referring to the report printed in certain papers that the railroad commission had written the attorney general a letter asking if it could cancel the emergency rate on dry goods, an injunction on which is now pending in the Federal court, without contempt of court, Railroad Commissioner Colquitt said he knew absolutely nothing about any such letter nor had he discussed any such proposition. Commissioner Mayfield declined to discuss the matter, saying that commission's conferences with the attorney general regarding the case were private. Chairman Storey of the commission said: "We do not propose to make our methods of procedure in this case public. I can say this: The commission will not back down in its fight to sustain our class A rates on dry goods."

GRABBED AT GIRL.

Unknown Scoundrel Attempted to Seize Young Lady at Waco.

Waco, Oct. 20.—Some man, color unknown, attempted to grab Miss Lou Rogers, an employe of the Independent Telephone company, as she started in the yard of her residence Thursday night on her return from work. The young woman ran and screamed. The miscreant hurriedly beat a retreat.

ASHES OF IRVING.

With Impressive Services They Are Interred in Westminster Abbey.

London, Oct. 20.—Beside that other great actor, Garrick, and under the shadow of the statue of Shakespeare, as the interpreter of whose plays he won fame, the ashes of Sir Henry Irving were given burial in Westminster abbey, thus being accorded England's greatest tribute to her dead. The services, which were impressive in character, were conducted in the presence of a congregation which included many from the highest official life of England, eminent representatives of all walks of life and all representatives of that gallery to which Irving was so invariably attentive, who could find standing room in the abbey. King Edward was represented by General Sir Dighton Probyn, keeper of the privy purse, and the Prince of Wales was represented by Lieutenant Colonel William H. Harrington, comptroller of the prince's household, while cabinet ministers and ambassadors attended in person. Whitelaw Reid, who was visiting in Scotland, came to London purposely to testify to America's regard for the dead tragedian.

Long before the hour set for the service immense crowds gathered around the abbey and those having cards of admission were in their seats early. At 10 o'clock those who were unable to secure admittance remained about the entrance until the conclusion of the ceremonies, when, in common with thousands of others they passed Post corner to see the interment place.

ONE MORE COLD SNAP.

This Is All That Is Needed to Finish Up the Yellow Fever.

New Orleans, Oct. 20.—Weather was threatening here Friday, with a fall in temperature forecasted. Out in the northwest a blizzard was prevailing, and there was hope the wave would come this way and add the finishing touches to the present fever fight. It only needs another cold snap to wind up most of the remaining quarantines. Among the latest parishes the order raising of quarantine is St. James, which threw down bars Friday.

It signs point to the fact that the present week's record is the lowest number of deaths since July. Though the situation here is so much improved that Dr. White will be able to spare some of his men to be returned to stations, it is understood all who are now here or nearby will remain until President Roosevelt's arrival, so they may be presented in a body to the chief magistrate.

The second case of fever at Franklin has been reported, but is of a mild type. There also has been a case reported at Jeanerette and another at Baldwin, both near Franklin and both in St. Mary's parish. It is considered not improbable that all of these cases came from Patterson, which is also in St. Mary's parish. The people are much alarmed, but Dr. Corput made a reassuring address, indicating there is little, if any, danger of spread of the disease at this season.

Up to noon Friday there were two new cases of yellow fever and no deaths.

SLIGHTLY IMPROVED.

Governor Hogg Is In Good Spirits and Says He Will Get Well.

Fort Worth, Oct. 20.—Governor Hogg rested well Thursday night and his condition was encouraging Friday morning. Doctors decided not to move him to Austin for several days, owing to his weak heart. Swelling in stomach is disappearing, and the patient is suffering less pain than at any time since coming here.

Friar Land Purchase Settled.

Manila, Oct. 20.—The question of friar land purchase practically was settled Friday, when the committee paid to the Dominican order $3,225,000, which is the last payment.

Dies Sawing Wood.

Dallas, Oct. 20.—While sawing wood Jerry Johnson, a negro, suddenly expired.

CHARLOTTE'S GREETING.

While There President Roosevelt Meets Mrs. Stonewall Jackson.

Charlotte, N. C., Oct. 20.—Through brilliantly lighted streets President Roosevelt was hastened in a motor car four blocks Thursday night to Vance park, where he addressed 25,000 people, fully 10,000 more being unable to get in. He created the wildest enthusiasm by referring to the Mecklenburg declaration of independence, Mrs. Stonewall Jackson, who lives here, and William E. Shipp, the monument to whom he passed on the way to the park.

The feature of his stay here was his meeting with the widow of Stonewall Jackson. Mrs. Jackson lives in a stone's throw of the station, and she was present when the train pulled in, at the head of a committee of ladies appointed to receive Mrs. Roosevelt. When she was introduced by Mayor McIninch, the president took her hand and remained talking for fully five minutes. "Mrs. Jackson, you don't know how glad I am to meet you, the widow of the great Stonewall Jackson. Why it is worth the whole trip down here to shake your hand."

He referred to her grandson, Jackson Christian, whom he appointed to a cadetship at West Point: "He is a mighty fine fellow, Mrs. Jackson, a mighty fine fellow, by Jove."

The citizens committee stood in waiting while he escorted Mrs. Jackson to Mrs. Roosevelt and introduced her. While the president was speaking in the park, Mrs. Jackson entertained Mrs. Roosevelt at her home and 100 Charlotte ladies helped to make her stay a pleasure.

In his speech the president said: "Here, as I came up your streets, I saw a monument raised to a fellow-soldier of mine who fell during the Spanish war at Santiago—Lieutenant Shipp of North Carolina (applause). The morning of the fight he and I took breakfast together. It was not much of a breakfast, but it was the only breakfast we had coming and we were glad to get it. The night before I had no supper and his comrades gave me out of the very small amount that they had, a sandwich. In the morning they had no material for breakfast. But by that time my tidings had come up and I shared my breakfast with them. That was at dawn. Before noon one of them was killed, and the other (as we then thought) was fatally wounded. Now there are here men who fought in that great war. We who went in '98 had the opportunity to fight only in a small way; and all that we claim is that we hope we showed a spirit not entirely unworthy of the men who faced the mighty and terrible days from '61 to '65. (Applause.)

(Here the president turned aside and asked how much more time he had—if it was not two minutes. Some one told him to speak as long as he wanted to, when he made the utterance that he would like to go on all night.)

He closed by saying we must remember to keep our republic in its position of leadership among the nations.

NOT TILL NOVEMBER.

Monk Gibson Will Probably Be Tried During That Term.

San Antonio, Oct. 20.—Monk Gibson many not be tried until the November term of the Thirty-seventh district court. It is probable that he will not be arraigned until the fourth week of the term. The law providing for trial in criminal assault cases is construed to apply only in vacation.

Monk Gibson told Sheriff Egg and Deputy Ashbeck of Jackson county, who took him to San Antonio, to "tell my folks howdy for me, and that I am doing well."

STORM STRUCK.

Wind Does Considerable Damage In and Near Collinsville.

Sherman, Oct. 20.—A severe wind storm prevailed at Collinsville Wednesday night. It only lasted three minutes, but wrecked Ludd Elliott's large barn, scattering it over several acres. Residence of I. Shirley was carried thirty yards. Hundreds of trees were ruined, fences blown down and a mile of telephone poles leveled. Nobody was hurt.

WEDS WIDOW.

Norman Selby Drops Name of Kid McCoy and Quits Pugilism.

New York, Oct. 20.—Norman Selby, who during his career as a middle weight pugilist in the prize ring was known as "Kid McCoy" was married Thursday night at the Algonquin hotel, this city, to Mrs. Lillian Ellis, widow of the late Edward C. Ellis of Schenectady. Immediately after ceremony Selby said he had dropped the name of McCoy forever. He is done with sporting life, he said, and will become a business man.

WENT ASHORE.

Number of Crew of Steamer Sarah E. Sheldon Jumped Into Lake Erie.

Cleveland, O., Oct. 20.—During a fierce storm on Lake Erie early Friday the steamer Sarah E. Sheldon went ashore four miles east of Lorain. She carried a crew of thirteen men, a number of whom jumped overboard when the vessel began to go to pieces. The vessel is a total wreck. She was loaded with coal for Detroit.

The First Business Woman.

We don't generally associate the Bible with business matters, but if you were told to name the first business woman mentioned in the Bible what would you say?

It was Pharaoh's daughter, because she took a prophet out of water.—New York Times.

There should be as little merit in loving a woman for her beauty as a man for his prosperity, both being equally subject to change.—Pope.
